Earth Day

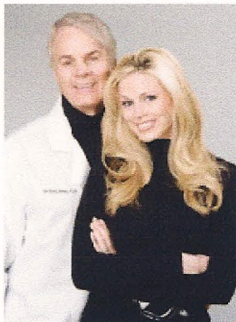

posted by Kristie Ramirez at 1:19 PM

I've seen this product at Nordstrom and Dillards, but it wasn't until this morning that I realized this company is Dallas-based. Organicare was founded by a doctor father and an eco-centric daughter who say that the unique mix of organic ingredients amp up cell turnover and speed the production of collagen.

Have any of you tried this product? What do you think?

If their skin is any proof, I'm on my way to Dillards right now.
