Icare with Organicare

Pure performance skincare. Sounds simple enough eh? USDA certified Organic products to diminish wrinkles, prevent the signs of aging, Renew your skin and to clarify troubled skin.

I feel like there are a ton of Organic companies out there but they don't all address each woman's needs. Take my aunt, she says she just doesn't produce oil anymore and the Anti-aging line would be perfect for her, my mom is aging but used to break out and I think the Radiant line would be fantastic for her. Who can't use Prevention? and I know for a fact that Organicare's Clear Complexion works on my troubled, annoying acne!

And a company with a great philosophy on life and business. It really is all about people.
I used Organicare's Step 2 Clarity Control, their blemish fighting AHA Serum. Like I told the owner, I never bothered with cotton balls as this product is just in the middle of a serum and a toner, so it has just enough thickness to place in my fingertips and then apply to my face. It contains 3 naturally occurring AHA's (alpha hydroxy acids) to clean those pores but with Aloe Vera to sooth any existing inflammation. Works like a charm, I wouldn't say my acne has healed but it has diminished greatly with NO IRRITATION at all.

I trust Organicare's products and I am believer in the Icare statement.

Posted by karissa at 12:48 AM http://www.prissygreen.com/2009/06/icare-with-organicare-review-and.html